

Friday, January 27

6:30 p.m. Meet in the hotel lobby for dinner

Saturday, January 28

8:45 a.m. Welcome, overview of the program
Berrin Beasley, University of North Florida

9:00—9:50 a.m. Research Paper Session
Moderator: Leonard Teel, Georgia State University, Communication Professor Emeritus

“Rogue’s Radical Reach: Reflections of Sex-Positive Feminism in Marvel’s X-Men”
Deanna Kaylin Bowen, graduate student, University of Alabama

“Delicious! Food Reporting in Good Housekeeping, 1946-2016”
Taylor Yungk, undergraduate student, Samford University

10—11:00 a.m. Research Paper Session
Moderator: Bernell Tripp, The University of Florida

“The Changing Coverage of Football Concussions in Sports Illustrated, 1954-2016”
Yazmeen Ebada, undergraduate student, Samford University

“Hometown Hero or Privileged Criminal? Self-Interested Newspaper Coverage vs. Neutral Newspaper Coverage of Jameis Winston”
Sam Chandler, undergraduate student, Samford University

“English Cricket’s Waterloo in South Africa”
Oliver Simpson, graduate student, University of Alabama

11:10 a.m.—12 p.m. Faculty Panel Presentation
“Conferences, Journals and Paper Submissions”
Panelists will discuss best practices for paper submissions to conferences and journals. They will also discuss various conferences to attend, such as:
AJHA national conference
AEJMC national conference
AEJMC-SE Colloquium
Joint Journalism and Communication Conference (NYU)
UTC Symposium on the 19th Century Press, the Civil War, and Free Expression

12—12:45 p.m. Lunch
Served in the hotel lobby
Provided by the American Journalism Historians Association

12:50—1:40 p.m. Research Paper Session
Moderator: Julie Williams, Samford University

“‘Handsome Adolf’: Hitler and the Rise of Nazi Germany in the Pages of Time, 1923-1939”
William Benjamin Pockstaller, graduate student, University of Alabama

“The Media’s Mayday: More than Sex, Drugs, and Rock and Roll”
Hailey Grace Steele, graduate student, University of Alabama

1:50-2:50 p.m. Research Paper Session
Moderator: Bradford Hinchler, Georgia State, alumnus

“Eyes on Katrina: How a Newspaper Blog Served a Disaster-Stricken Community”
*Christopher Edmunds, graduate student,
University of Alabama*

“News that Hit Home: American Newspapers’ First Response During Pearl Harbor and 9/11”
*Samantha Hill, graduate student,
University of Alabama*

“Exploring the ‘Gonzo’ Realm: A Comparison Between the Journalistic Styles of Hunter S. Thompson and Matt Taibbi”
*Keith Huffman, graduate student,
University of Alabama*

2:50 p.m. Paper Awards and Concluding Remarks

3 p.m. Faculty Planning Meeting for 2018 Symposium

The 2017 AJHA Southeast Symposium would not be possible without the support of organizers, participants, reviewers and the American Journalism Historians Association. We would like to thank the following:

Berrin Beasley, University of North Florida
Dianne Bragg, University of Alabama
David Davies, University of Southern Mississippi
Bradford Hinchler, Georgia State University, alum
Pete Smith, Mississippi State University
Leonard Teel, Georgia State University,
Communication Professor Emeritus
Bernell Tripp, University of Florida
Debbie VanTuyll, Augusta University
Julie Williams, Samford University

Welcome to the

AJHA

Southeast Symposium

January 27- January 29, 2017
Panama City Beach, Florida